

Path Integrity

Rotatory Role-Playing and Role-Models to Enhance the Research Integrity Culture

Path2Integrity newsletter

June 2020

Survey on the Perception of Research Integrity

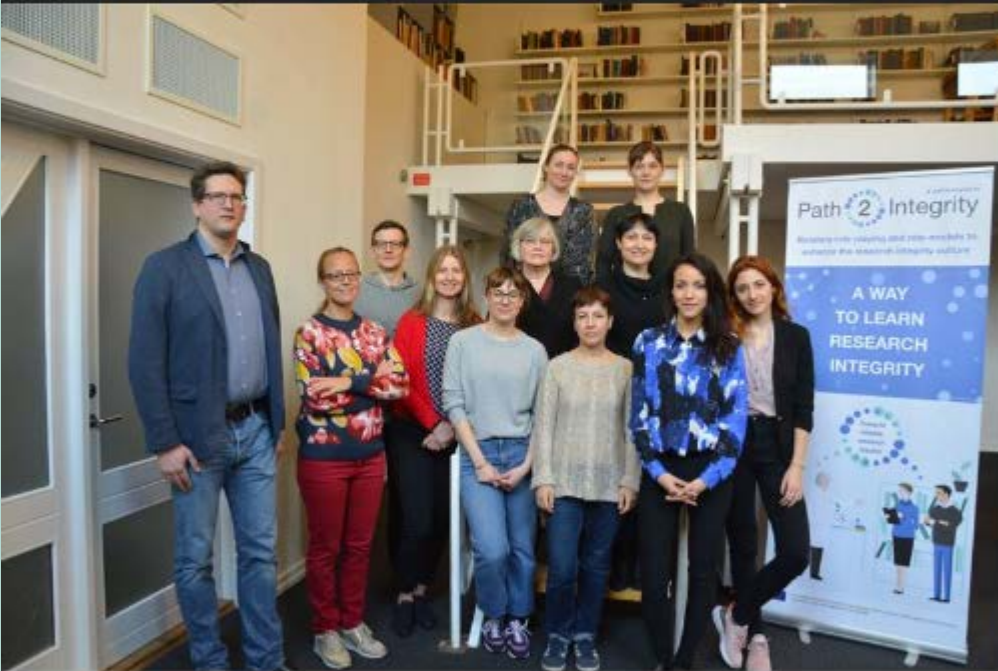

Path2Integrity's survey on the perception of research integrity is up and running! The survey aims to obtain information from different groups of interest concerning Research Integrity (RI), ultimately helping the project to develop a range of materials and channels of dissemination in order to increase the awareness of research models among academics, secondary school teachers, young researchers, and students. Up to this date, the survey has more than 500 responses - participate now!

Second Annual General Meeting

 Path2Integrity 9 March · 🌐

The Path2Integrity annual consortium meeting in Esbjerg has ended! The productive discussions and workshops gave an overview of our progress and challenges on the project so far. Some of the important topics discussed during the conference included:

- Path2Integrity learning cards
- Train The Trainer programme
- Path2Integrity Campaign... See more

261 People reached      51 Engagements      Boost Post

 5      1 share

Path2Integrity's second annual consortium meeting took place between 17-18 February in Esbjerg, Denmark. The productive discussions and workshops gave an overview of the progress and challenges of the project so far. Some of the important topics discussed during the conference included:

- Path2Integrity learning cards
- Train The Trainer programme
- Path2Integrity Campaign
- 2021 Conference
- Evaluation of Integrity and Integrity training curricula
- Communication and Dissemination
- International workshops

You can find more information about the course of the meeting here.

Animated videos introducing the Path2Integrity learning cards

Introductory video: Path2Integrity S-series learning cards

Introductory video: Path2Integrity M+Y-series learning cards

Research Integrity protects the reputation and careers of researchers and research organizations. In a series of visually appealing animated videos, Path2Integrity aims to help students, teachers, as well as future and active researchers to learn the principles of openness, honesty and reliability.

The videos focus on the S-series and M+Y-series learning cards - watch them yourself and let us know how we might do more to promote a culture of research integrity!

Path2Integrity's award-winning solution

Trust in Science

Fighting COVID-19 with reliable information

"Trust in Science" was developed by the Path2Integrity team as part of the EC-organized #EUvsVirus hackathon. Based on the initial project research results, "Trust in Science" seeks to combat mistrust in science and to contest the misinformation and disinformation seen during the pandemic on basic questions such as how we can protect ourselves or how to combat the virus. The tool became a winner in the category of Social and Political Cohesion, in particular in Mitigating the spread of fake news. You can learn more about the development, mechanism and impact of "Trust in Science" here.

Path2Integrity's open science collection

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar of the RIO Journal website with links for Home, Articles, About, About Pensoft, Books, E-Books, Blog, and Journals. Below the navigation bar, a teal box on the left identifies the document as a 'Project Report'. To its right, the text reads 'Research Ideas and Outcomes 5: e49755' and 'https://doi.org/10.3897/rio.5.e49755 (30 Dec 2019)'. Further right, a red box says 'Reviewable' and a dark box says 'v1', with a CrossMark logo to the right. The main title of the article is 'Validation of the mapping of innovative methods and research integrity curricula'. Below the title, a list of authors is provided: Lisa Häberlein, Paula-Manuela Cengiz, Iliyana Demirova, Agnieszka Dwojak-Matras, Mette Winge Jacobsen, Agnieszka Koterwas, Belén Lopez, Teodor Metodiev, and Maria Palianopoulou.

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar of the RIO Journal website with links for Home, Articles, About, About Pensoft, Books, E-Books, Blog, and Journals. Below the navigation bar, a teal box on the left identifies the document as a 'Grant Proposal'. To its right, the text reads 'Research Ideas and Outcomes 6: e53921' and 'https://doi.org/10.3897/rio.6.e53921 (05 May 2020)'. Further right, a red box says 'Reviewable' and a dark box says 'v1', with a CrossMark logo to the right. The main title of the article is 'Rotatory role-playing and role-models to enhance the research integrity culture'. Below the title, a list of authors is provided: Julia Prieß-Buchheit, Arja R Aro, Iliyana Demirova, Dirk Lanzerath, Pavel Stoev, and Nicolaus Wilder.

Path2Integrity's open science collection is now part of the RIO Journal! The first addition of the collection contains a compendium of curricula in which research integrity (RI), research ethics (RE) or associated fields are mentioned from across Europe, including Bulgaria, Denmark, Germany, Poland and Spain. An abridged version of the Path2Integrity's grant proposal is the second addition to the open science collection. The document provides extensive information about the project's specific objectives, overall aims, concept and methodology, while also highlighting the expected impacts of the project and the plan for their implementation.

Path2Integrity at Conferences

Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), March 2019

Path2Integrity mini-conference on teaching RI, October 2019

6th World Conference on Research Integrity, June 2019

European Conference on Educational Research (ECER), September 2019

European Researchers' Night, September 2019

Fourth Industrial Revolution and its ethical impacts, November 2019

Workshops & Symposia:

Breakfast in Seville, February 2020

"(Evaluating) Learning Research Ethics and Research Integrity" Virtual Symposium, March 2020

Path2Integrity

Path2Integrity virtual symposium:
 "(Evaluating) Learning Research Ethics and Research Integrity"

Monday, March 16th
 15:30 - 17:30 (GMT+1)
 miller@3compliance.com for registration

Agenda:

- Teaching and learning Research Ethics and Research Integrity: a European roadmap
Prof. Julia Frick-Buchner, Lisa Heilmann
- Lessons learned in international training
Prof. Aija Ais
- The multiple (or not?) a possibility to evaluate learning objectives in RE&RI
Neelakus Willem, Linda Zolteuch
- Ethical challenges in educational science research: approaches, experiences and recommendations from a Horizon2020 project
Dr. Tam Lindemann, Prof. Dirk Landwehr

"Perception of research integrity & the (cross)disciplinarity of teaching ethical cases" Symposium, July 2019

AGM Esbjerg Workshop, February 2020

INSPIRE Symposium, January 2020

"Path2Integrity - Learning how to argue for good research practice" Workshop, November 2019

Subscribe!

